The Ontario Elections

Hearst Government Defeated.
Farmers Make Big Gains.

The Ontario elections which took place on Monday developed into a pleasant surprise. It was thought by very few that the Hearst government, which was conservative, would win out, but the polls on Monday gave the country a chance to laugh and smile again. We have read before that the wise men came from the east, so let us give thanks that we are at least allowed to look into the future with optimistic eyes. The Cabinet Ministers were defeated Sir William Hearst, the premier, being completely snowed under. The next government of the province of Ontario may be a coalition composed of Liberals, United Farmers and Labor. No party has in itself a working majority. Sir William Hearst in thanking his supporters said: "The temperance act, no doubt, had a great deal to do with my defeat, but I did what I thought was right and if I had it to do again, I would do the same thing." Of course, he would. There are quite a number of people in this world like Sir William Hearst, doing what they think is right, but knowing full well nobody else will ever think so. If we know anything this looks like a forecast of what is likely to happen at the next Dominion election. Then the people at church will be able to sing with truth and a spirit of righteousness that well-known hymn "Now thank we all our God, with hearts, and hands and voices."

It is a poor excuse to blame the temperance act for the defeat. The fact is the people of Ontario only expressed the feelings of the thinking people of the whole dominion, that they are sick, sore, sorry and sad at this 20th century conservative policy of muddle and mess, talking but never doing, and trying to build a reputation on a piecrust promise.

Final summary of the Ontario election—U.F.O. 42, Conservatives 27, Liberals 28, Labor 11, Soldier 1, Independent 1, In doubt 1. Total 111.

U.S. Senate Turns Down Amendments

The long debated Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, presented by Senator Lodge, and approved by the foreign relations committee, was finally rejected in the senate to-day, with a majority of an even score against it. In the event of 35 to 55, 14 of the republicans swung over the pro-treaty forces, while three democrats lined up with those supporting the proposal. With six senators absent, two republicans were put on record as in favor of the amendment and one republican and three democrats as opposing it.

Proportional Representation ---No. 3

Having in preceding articles referred to the inequalities in representation in our public bodies which result from our present system of election, and the methods which are proposed by Proportional Representation for overcoming these inequalities, it is now proposed to cite a few examples of results achieved where P.R. has been put into practice.

In the last British elections, seven of the English universities were combined into one constituency electing two members, and the election was conducted under the P.R. method. Four candidates were nominated for the two seats. When the ballots were counted it was found that first preferences had been recorded as follows: Fisher, 959; Hobson, 366; Williams, 366; Conway, 303—<sup>3</sup> total of 1,994.

With a total vote polled of 1,994, and with two candidates to be elected, the necessary quota "to secure election would be arrived at by dividing 1,994 by three and adding one, this gives a quota of 665." Mr. Fisher, having polled 959 votes, was declared elected, and his surplus of votes over 665, namely, 294, was then distributed according to the second preferences indicated thereon. More than half, 162, fell to Conway, 88 to Hobson and 44 to Williams. The position of the candidates at the conclusion of the transfer was: Fisher, 665 (elected); Conway, 465; Hobson, 454; Williams, 40.

While one candidate was elected, not one of the other three had obtained a quota. The lowest on the poll, Williams, with 410 votes, was accordingly declared defeated, and his votes transferred. As many as 312 fell to Conway, thus bringing his total above the quota, and he was accordingly elected. Thus under P.R., a man who was at the foot of the poll on the first count was actually elected because he was a strong favorite as a second choice candidate.

An election under the Proportional Representation system which has attracted widespread attention was the municipal election in Sligo, Ireland, whereby the first town council in the United Kingdom to be chosen by the new method was selected. In that election 24 candidates were elected, eight from each of three wards. Four groups of candidates were in the field representing the Ratepayers' Association, Sinn Fein, Labor and Independents. The following table gives a summary of the final result, and reveals the fact that each group obtained representation in the council in proportion to their voting strength:

Parties	Seats in Proportion to Actual		Obtained
	First Preferences	Second Preferences
Ratepayers	823	8.94	8
Sinn Fein	674	7.33	7
Labor	432	4.70	5
Independents	279	3.03	4
Totals	2,208	24.00	24

It is thus shown that all groups of citizens obtained representation, and that, if allowance is made for cross voting between the wards, they obtained representation in proportion to their numbers. Further, in all cases the electors had the final word in deciding which of the nominees of the various parties should be returned. The objects of P.R. being to secure freedom of choice in voting and justice in representation, these were secured by the single transferable vote.

Prior to this election in Sligo, as in so many other places, many of the more heavily taxed citizens found themselves out-voted. After some time they ceased to try to obtain representation. They were compelled to be content with criticising the work of the council from outside, and much of their criticism was justified, for, as is often the case when the constitution of the council is one-sided, the administration was not of a high order. The corporation, however, labored under difficulties. Its powers of assessment and taxation were limited. It inherited a considerable debt. Burdens imposed by the council continued to increase. Eventually the crash came. The corporation was bankrupt. The streets were, for a time, neither repaired nor swept and the street lights were not lit. As a result, there sprung into existence a vigorous Ratepayers' Association, in which many members of the hitherto unrepresented minority took a prominent part. The ratepayers challenged the action of the council in striking a rate in excess of its powers. Finally, a new municipal charter was passed, giving the corporation unlimited powers of assessment and taxation, but providing for an early election under the proportional system. The result, indicated above, shows that the ratepayers through their association candidates have now obtained fair and proportional representation on the council.

Speaking of the election results, the newly-elected mayor says: "The elections recently conducted here under P.R. have given entire satisfaction to the people of Sligo, and under no circumstances would they be agreeable to go back to the old system." (Next week some objections to P.R. will be dealt with.)

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for children. One day is warm, the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mother's best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Salaried Man

Bill Introduced to Remove Restrictions as to Age

London, England.—An interesting paragraph in the August number of the International Woman Suffrage News stated that the Icelandic Government has introduced a bill into the Althing for the amendment of the Constitution in such a way as to give equal political suffrage for elections in districts to all men and women of 25 years, while 35 years is to be the qualifying age for electors of both sexes for elections to the Upper House. It is considered certain that this amendment will be passed, in which case the elections will take place in the spring. Four years ago the Icelandic women were enfranchised, subject to certain restrictions as to age, which the amendment bill now before the Althing will remove.

A Labor Saving Combination

"IT is the last straw that breaks the camel's back." So runs the old proverb. And it is the little extra efforts which tire you out on wash-day.

Eddy's
Indurated Fibreware

Washtubs and Washboards

form a combination which save you much extra labor. Indurated Fibreware tubs are much easier to lift and to move about. They keep the water hot for a much longer space of time, because they do not conduct heat as metal does. They are easier to keep clean, because they are made in one piece without joint or seam, and the hard, glazed surface is impervious to liquids or odors. And they cost no more. Last longer, too. Eddy's Twin Beaver Washboard has a double rubbing surface of Indurated Fibreware which loosens the dirt quickly and saves many tiresome motions.

Mustard Gas Secret.

Mustard gas, said Mr. F. E. Kellaway, Deputy Minister of Munitions, at a dinner of British chemists recently, was the discovery of a Scottish chemist named Guthrie.

"It was offered to the British Government some considerable time before it was used by Germany," he said, "but was rejected by the military authorities. After the attacks on Arras, British chemists commenced experimental work, and Sir William Pope, working in the Cambridge laboratories, was able to develop Guthrie's simple and direct process into a practical proposition for making the same materials which the Germans methods."

"As a result, at the time of the armistice we had completely outstripped Germany in this particular means of warfare, and had the war continued, Germany would have been in the spring of this year drenched and almost drowned with her own gas."

"The first mustard gas shells sent to the front," said Mr. Kellaway, "involved among the munition workers at home one casualty of every nine rounds delivered to the troops. It is impossible to pay too high a tribute to the persistence and devotion of the chemists and munition workers engaged in these operations."

"I recall now with gratitude on behalf of these men a couple of verses which appeared in "The Daily Chronicle" on June 2, one of which I will venture to quote:

Lyrics have lauded well,
Raising to Honor's throne
The fighting men who marched through Hell.
But Fame has yet to own
The solitary sentinel,
Shut in with Death alone.

Pre-War Days are Quickly Resumed.*Canadians Are Apt To Forget That The Struggle Is Not Finished.

It's funny how quickly we slip back into the old grooves of life, even though jarred out of them by years of war and wrenching by sad partings.

Isn't it true that in most Canadian homes life goes on today pretty much as it did five blank years ago, the strayed sons come to the breakfast table with the same noisy greetings, though there is, perhaps, a shade deeper ring to their voices? Returned from war, the head of the family sits in his old accustomed place at story time, perhaps bringing a new kind of prince and knight for the youngsters.

With the men home life goes on pretty much as before. The harsh cold realities of war are slipping into the misty background. We can never forget the price in flesh and blood; we could easily forget the price in treasure.

When we hear of plans for the Victory Loan, 1919, we are brought back with a jerk to the hard fact that the cost of Canada's Victory has not been fully paid, and that the future lays burdens upon us also.

Thrift in the Schools

Increasingly insistent is the demand that the schools of this Dominion teach citizenship—that they equip the child to do the full duty of a good citizen. It is not forgotten that the schools have for generations done excellent work; but the experience of the last four years has brought the

"I Hope Every City and District Will Win My Flag"

When Edward, Prince of Wales—eager, bright eyed, smiling and sincere—arrived in Canada in August, and when he voiced his great admiration of the wonderful achievements of Canadians, on the fields of battle and at home, once again we were thrilled with joyous pride.

He asked concerning Canada's reconstruction programme, and when he was told of the Victory Loan 1919, he graciously consented to the use of his Coat of Arms on a flag, which is to be the prize of honour for districts achieving their quota in the loan.

In dedicating "The Prince's Flag" at Ottawa on Labor Day, His Royal Highness said in part:—

"It is a great joy to me to be associated with the loan, which is the bridge between war and peace, and which is finishing off the job."

"I hope every city and district will win my flag."

Striking, and beautiful in design, this flag will form not only an unique memento of Victory Year, but a lasting and outstanding souvenir of the visit of His Royal Highness—a visit which will remain as one of the most memorable events in Canada's history.

The reproduction above shows the design of the flag. The body is white, the edge red; in the upper left hand corner is the Union Jack, and in the lower right hand corner the Prince of Wales' Coat of Arms.

The flag is made in two sizes, 4 feet 6 inches by 9 feet for small cities, towns and villages, and 7 feet by 13 feet 6 inches for cities of over 10,000 population.

Canada has been divided into canvassing districts by the Victory Loan Organization. Each city forms one district. Other districts have been determined according to population.

Each of these canvassing districts has been allotted a certain amount in Victory Bonds to sell. To win the Prince's Flag, therefore, a district has to sell its allotment. That is the one and simple condition.

Anticipating that many districts will buy far beyond their allotment, the organization decided that for each twenty-five per cent. excess of the quota one Prince of Wales' Crest be awarded. Thus the workers in a district doubling its quota will be the proud winners of four small crests for their Honour Flag. These crests will be sewn to the flag. The Prince's Crest—realization that a change in method and in subject-matter—a shifting of emphasis—is urgently required. A young man may be an expert in arithmetic, in spelling, in writing, grammar, geography, and every other subject on the curriculum and may, none the less, display qualities of brutality, injustice, wastefulness, and treason—may, indeed, be a Bolshevik.

An altered type of training, a new view of relative values, must come. A knowledge of the fundamentals on which rests the structure of democracy must be a part of all instruction worthy of the name. Education may make or mar a nation—it has done so in Europe and elsewhere.

What are the fundamentals? Honesty is one. Industry is another, and there are many more. Frugality is an important one, and one that is being overlooked in this new country. Canada was built on thrift, among other things—the pioneers were specialists in thrift.

Thrift is not hoarding; it is not miserliness; it consorts not with the pessimist. Thrift is intelligent care of money and resources, conservation for the future, wise and thoughtful spending. The thrifty man is an optimist, for he has stored up power.

And thrift must be taught in the schools. This will not add to the teachers' burdens, for every subject of study can be so taught that it helps to inculcate the practice of thrift.

A Thrift Club in the classroom works wonders in the discipline of the school; it gives the pupils something worth while to talk about and something worth while to think about. United for a common aim, they learn esprit de corps. They come to know the value of money and the principles of business; they are imbued with the necessary preparation for citizenship.

For the attractive investment of small savings, War-Savings Stamps afford an excellent medium. This plan has been highly successful in the schools of Great Britain, of the United States, and of Canada.

Thrift taught in the schools encourages industry because children wish to earn so that they may save. And, more than ever in its history, this old world needs to go to work. Production must be increased. Produce, save, invest, must become the universal slogan.

More Bonds to buy—Finish the fight.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 22, 1919.

The biggest items that cause the electric light plant to get behind every year in financial matters is the cost of fuel—coal, freight, unloading. It has been the feeling amongst several for some years that a small auxiliary could be put in to take care of the light load caused during late hours. However, the Mayor informed the editor that they had gone into this matter and found that it would cost about $12,000 at present. This is prohibitive. But have they gone into the matter of burning crude oil run from tanks beside the track or enquired into the possibilities of getting natural gas at the well at the plant. There was no doubt about gas being there at one time as it was clearly demonstrated to the writer but his suggestion made in the columns of the Pioneer some time ago that an expert's advice on the matter be gotten has not received any attention we believe.

A light of satisfaction was in his teacher's eyes as Dave made this answer. Mr. Duncan had realized that he was starting late with this pupil, and if there were any short cuts to education he must find them. So he had set out deliberately to instill the idea that education is not a matter of schools and colleges, or courses of reading, or formulae of any kind, but a matter of the five senses applied to every experience of life. And he knew that nothing was coarse or common that passed through Dave's hands. Coal had ceased to be a sunnily mineral, and had taken on talismanic qualities unguessed by the mere animal workman; and sugar, and coffee, and beans, and rice, and spices, each would open its own wonderful world before this young and fertile mind. As an heritage from his boyhood on the ranges, Dave had astonishingly alert senses; his sight, his hearing, his sense of smell and of touch were vastly more acute than those of the average university graduate. . . . And if that were true, might it not fairly be said that Dave was already the better educated of the two, even if he, as yet, knew nothing of the classics?

As Dave parted from the Metford gang he felt that he knew what Mr. Duncan had meant by the deadline. These were men who would always shovel coal, because they aspired to nothing better. There was no atom of snobbery in Dave's nature; he knew perfectly well that shovelling coal was quite as honorable and respectable a means of livelihood as managing a bank, but the man who was content to shovel coal was on the deadline. . . . And, by the same logic, the man who was content to manage a bank was on the deadline. That was a new and somewhat startling aspect of life. He must discuss it with Mr. Duncan.

Dave's energy and enthusiasm in the warehouse soon brought him promotion from truck hand to shipping clerk, with an advance in wages to sixty-five dollars a month. He was prepared to remain in this position for some time, as he knew that promotion depends on many things besides ability. Mr. Duncan had warned him against the delusion that man is entirely master of his destiny. "Life, my boy," he had said, "is fifty per cent environment and forty per cent heredity. The other ten per cent is yours. But that ten per cent is like the steering gear in an automobile; it's only a small part of the mechanism, but it directs the course of the whole machine. Get a good grip on the part of your life you can control, and don't worry over the rest."

To economize both time and money Dave took his lunch with him and ate it in the warehouse. He had also become possessed of a pocket encyclopaedia and it was his habit to employ the minutes saved by eating lunch in the warehouse in reading from his encyclopaedia. It chanced one day that as he was reading in the noon hour Mr. Trapper, the head of the firm, came through the warehouse. Dave knew him but little; he thought of him as a stern, unapproachable man, and avoided him as much as possible. But this time Mr. Trapper was upon him before he was seen.

"What are you reading?" he demanded. "Yellow backed nonsense."

"No, sir," said Dave, rising and extending his arm with the book. "Why, what's this?" queried Mr. Trapper, in some surprise. "Tea—tea—oh, I see, it's an encyclopaedia. What is the idea, young man?" "I always like to read up about the stuff we are handling," said Dave. "It's interesting to know all about it; where it comes from, how it is grown, what it is used for, the different qualities, and so forth."

"H'm," said Mr. Trapper, returning the book. "No doubt." And he walked on without further comment. But that afternoon he had something to say to his manager. "That young fellow on the shipping desk—Elden, I think his name is. How do you find him?" "Very satisfactory, sir. Punctual, dependable, and accurate."

"Watch him," said Mr. Trapper. The manager swung around in his chair. "Why, what do you mean? You haven't occasion to suspect—"

Mr. Trapper's customary sternness slowly relaxed, until there was the suggestion of a smile about the corners of his mouth, and rather more than a suggestion in the twinkle in his eye.

"Do you know what I caught that young fellow doing during noon hour?" he asked. "Reading up the encyclopaedia on tea. Tea, mind you. Said he made a practice of reading up on the stuff we are handling. We, mind you. Found it very interesting to know where it came from, and all about it. I've been in the grocery business for pretty close to forty years, and I've seen many an employee spend his noon hour in the pool rooms, or in some other back room, or just smoking, but this is the first one I ever caught reading up the business in an encyclopaedia. Never read it that way myself. Well— you watch him. I'd risk a ten-spot that he knows more about tea this minute than half of our travellers."

But Dave was not to continue in the grocery trade, despite his reading of the encyclopaedia. A few evenings later he was engaged in reading in the public library; not an encyclopaedia, but Shakespeare. The encyclopaedia was for such time as he could save from business hours, but for his evening reading Mr. Duncan had directed him into the realm of fiction and poetry, and he was now feeling his way through Hamlet. From the loneliness of his boyhood he had developed the habit of talking aloud to himself, and in abstracted moments he read in an audible whisper which impressed the substance more deeply on his mind, but made him unpopular in the public reading rooms. It was well known among the patrons of the rooms that he read Hamlet. This fact, however, may not have been altogether to Dave's disadvantage. On the evening in question an elderly man engaged him in conversation.

"You are a Shakespearean student, I see?"

"Not exactly. I read a little in the evenings. But I haven't gone far enough to call myself a student."

"I have seen you here different times. Are you well acquainted with "A rash started all over my little girl's body, and she had some on her face. It started in a pimple that was full of water, and it got red and itchy. She cried for hours. This trouble lasted a year."

"Then I started with a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought more, and I used four cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment which healed her!" (Signed) Mr. Dora Langley, 1032 Gertrude St., Verdun, Que., August 11, 1918.

the town?"

"Pretty well," said Dave, suspecting that there might be a purpose in the questioning.

"Working now?"

Dave told him where he was employed.

"I am the editor of 'The Call,'" said the elderly man. "We need another man on the street; a reporter you know. We pay twenty-five dollars a week for such a position. If you are interested you might call at the office tomorrow."

Dave hurried with his problem to Mr. Duncan. "I think I'd like the work," he said, "but I am not sure whether I can do it. My writing is rather—wonderful."

Mr. Duncan turned the matter over in his mind. "Yes," he said at length, "but I notice you are beginning to use the typewriter. When you learn that God gave you ten fingers, not two, you may make a typist."

"Watch him," said Mr. Trapper.

The manager swung around in his chair. "Why, what do you mean? You haven't occasion to suspect—"

Mr. Trapper's customary sternness slowly relaxed, until there was the suggestion of a smile about the corners of his mouth, and rather more than a suggestion in the twinkle in his eye.

"Do you know what I caught that young fellow doing during noon hour?" he asked. "Reading up the encyclopaedia on tea. Tea, mind you. Said he made a practice of reading up on the stuff we are handling. We, mind you. Found it very interesting to know where it came from, and all about it. I've been in the grocery business for pretty close to forty years, and I've seen many an employee spend his noon hour in the pool rooms, or in some other back room, or just smoking, but this is the first one I ever caught reading up the business in an encyclopaedia. Never read it that way myself. Well— you watch him. I'd risk a ten-spot that he knows more about tea this minute than half of our travellers."

Dave explained his disadvantages to the editor of "The Call". "I didn't want you to think," he said, with great frankness, "that because I was reading Shakespeare I was a master of English. And I guess if I were to write up stuff in Hamlet's language I'd get canned for it."

"We'd probably have a deputation from the Moral Reform League," said the editor, with a dry smile.

"Just the same, if you know Shakespeare you know English, and we'll soon break you into the newspaper style."

So, almost before he knew it, Dave was on the staff of "The Call". His beat comprised the police court, fire department, hotels, and general pick-ups. And the very first day, as though to afford fuel for his genius, a small fire occurred in a clothing store.

"S'good for two sticks—about four inches," said the editor, when Dave had given him the main facts. "Write your story to fit."

Dave suddenly realized that, although he had been a persistent reader of newspapers during the recent months, he had scarcely the remotest idea of how many words went to a column, or to an inch. It was a piece of information needed at once, so he set about to count the words in a column. Then he wrote his story to fit. He had already learned that everything in a newspaper office, from a wedding to a ball game, is "a story." When he turned his in it looked like this:

The fire bell was heard ringing this morning about ten o'clock, and soon after crowds were seen wending their way to the Great West Clothing Store. There was a heavy black smoke coming from the back end of the store. The firemen were late in getting there, and before they arrived a man had got badly choked by trying to go into the store. Presently the engine came up and before long water was being applied in great quantities, and soon the fire was under control. Part of the roof fell in, and the building is pretty badly ruined. Some of the contents may be fit for sale. It seems too bad that the fire engine should have been so long in coming, as without doubt if it had got there promptly the fire could have been put out before much damage occurred. However, it might have been worse, as it was a frame building, in a row of other frame buildings, and if the fire had once got beyond control much damage might have been done. Nobody seems to know how the fire started.

It was with much quiet excitement that he awaited the appearance of the evening edition. He had a strange eagerness to see his contribution in print; a manifestation, no doubt, of that peculiar trait in human nature which fills the editorial waste basket with unaccepted contributions.

The announcement that "national" clothing to be put on sale in France to reduce the cost of living is not more interesting than the statement that the cloth is to come from the reconstructed mills a Roubaix, in the invaded district, near the Belgian border. ## Give her BOVRIL

Bovril is one of the most precious food substances in the world. Its beneficent effects are immediate; it acts like a glass of champagne, but without the reaction which wine sometimes brings. Bovril does permanent good by building up the very fabric of the body.

To get the full benefit of Bovril, take it regularly day after day. The value of "a course of Bovril" has been scientifically demonstrated by the independent investigations of Professor Thompson.

After bringing human subjects to a constant weight on a standard diet, he added Bovril to the other food, and found the body-building powers of Bovril to be 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

S. O. S.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascares"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascares immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascare tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

Move to Regulate Price of Clothing

Toronto.—Immediate and effective action to regulate clothing prices was forecasted by Commissioner Murdoch of the Commerce Board, at the conclusion of the board's investigation into clothing prices here. Col. W. H. Price, government counsel, had addressed the commissioner, calling attention to evidence which he said warranted action on the part of the board, and Commissioner Murdoch replied:

"I am firmly convinced that something should be done to reduce the price of clothing, and so far as I am concerned, as one member, I will hope to see something done promptly and effectively."

Commissioner Murdoch said he concurred in Col. Price's declaration that there had been too much profit made by some of the clothing houses whose affairs had been investigated. "And I am further of the opinion," he went on, "that there is more than net profit involved, that there is real net profit to some extent hidden in certain other items referred to in a general way as overhead. I think the people of the country demand, and are entitled to, a change in the situation."

Later on the chairman suggested: "If the business houses generally that have been to some extent under investigation will co-operate with the board themselves, and at the same time co-operate with the public and in the interest of their customers, we may go some reasonable distance toward the desired end of correcting the existing situation at this time."

Col. Price, in summing up the clothing situation as revealed in the investigation here, referred to the big profits made by the manufacturers and dealers, and said to Commissioner Murdoch:

"You will notice that the cost to the consumer is, in nearly every case, nearly 100 per cent. over what it cost to produce the article."

Prohibition in Norway

Despite This, Arrests for Intoxication Have Been Increasing

Christiania.—War-time prohibition, operating since December, 1916, and forbidding the sale and private importation of spirits and strong liquors has been made permanent.

Despite this prohibition, arrests for intoxication have been steadily increasing throughout the country, and in some places have been higher than before the war-time prohibition was put into effect.

Substitutes for liquor, especially denatured alcohol, are being used everywhere. Illegal distillation also is increasing, especially in the rural districts.

It is feared that France, Spain and Portugal, from which countries liquor was imported, may retaliate with a tariff on Norwegian products, such as timber and fish, thereby injuring especially the Norwegian fish trade, 60 per cent. of which goes to Portugal.

Nationalists Capture Konieh

Apprehension That Turkish Throne May Be In Danger

Paris.—Konieh, an important rail road centre, is in the hands of the Turkish Nationalist troops.

This city, which in the days of Roman power was known as Iconium and was the capital of the province of Lycaonia, stands in a position which virtually dominates South Asia Minor. Its capture appears to indicate that Mustapha Kemal is in control of the vast region stretching from Konieh from the southwest to Erzernu, the principal city of Turkish Armenia, a distance of 425 miles. It is said the fall of the Turkish cabinet was caused by the capture of Konieh, and there seems to be some apprehension in some quarters that the Turkish throne may be in danger.

On the other hand, French circles point out that Djemal Pasha, the newly appointed Turkish minister of war, is a political ally of Mustapha Kemal.

Great Britain began to withdraw her troops from Armenia in August, and it is probable this movement is now far advanced. France has forces in Syria, while Greece and Italy have small detachments at various points along the coast of Asia Minor.

None of these nations, however, appears to have sufficient forces to conduct a campaign in the interior of the country. Great Britain's army in Mesopotamia and in Palestine, to the east and south, seems to be too far away to menace the spread of the Turkish nationalist movement, led by Mustapha Kemal.

Concerning Shipping Supervision

Co-operation to Be Introduced in Control of Ocean Tonnage

Ottawa.—Relying to a question by J. E. Armstrong, Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, stated that the Dominion Government has called the Imperial Government's attention to injustices in connection with the supervision by the British Ministry of Shipping in the employment of vessels under charter by Canadian shipping interests.

In reply to another question, Sir George stated that the Canadian Government will cooperate with the Imperial Government and other overseas dominions in considering the question of the supervision and control of ocean tonnage between the different parts of the British dominions.

In reference to a report of a British royal commission in favor of government supervision in trans-Atlantic shipping, the minister stated that this report will probably form the subject-matter of consideration at the next Imperial conference.

Will Investigate Irrigation in West

Ottawa.—The agriculture committee of the commons recently gave consideration to the question of irrigation in the dry areas of the prairie provinces. During the discussion the important announcement was made by Professor J. A. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, that the Department of Agriculture, realizing the importance of this matter, is undertaking to carry on a thorough enquiry into the whole question, which may lead to important results.

Italy Ratifies Peace Pact

Rome.—King Victor Emmanuel has ratified the German and Austrian treaties by decree.

The Giornale d'Italia says that each decree contains two articles, the first authorizing the government to execute the treaty fully and the second setting forth that the documents be presented to parliament to be converted into law.

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effective in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out thrashing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 71 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Ready to Ratify Pact

Heavy Expenditures

Deputy Minister of Finance Submits Figures to Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment

Ottawa.—A presentation of the government's obligations in regard to the payment of perhaps $200,000,000 re-establishment grant in addition to the burdens already to be borne, was given to the special committee on the soldiers' civil re-establishment by T. C. Boville, deputy minister of finance.

Since March 31, 1914, the public net debt has increased 580 per cent., from $35,996,000 to an estimate for 1919-20 of $1,950,000,000. Pensions are estimated this year at $30,000,000; land settlement, $25,000,000; and soldiers' civil re-establishment, $10,000,000. Interest on the public debt has risen from $12,093,000 in 1913-14 to $102,762,000 this year.

War expenditures for 1919-20 were estimated at $350,000,000 exclusive of pensions, and this year's consolidated revenue receipts were estimated at $244,000,000.

Chicago.—The King of the Belgians ran the engine of his own train for ten miles. The special train on which the King and his party are travelling westward was stopped at Wauseon, Ohio, while His Majesty climbed into the cab of the engine and took over the throttle from the grumpy pilot. The King, who has a thorough knowledge of locomotive engineering, ran the heavy train for 10 miles without a jolt, then he stopped the engine and returned to his car.

Irish Home Rule Bill

London.—Parliamentarians say the Irish bill will be the feature of the new session of parliament, and the cabinet is now considering one drafted on lines of dominion home rule, but with suggested alterations that any county may stand out or Ulster counties be all included and have their own secretary of state.

Ottawa.—A further statement of the difficulties facing the government which make payment of $200,000,000 or more in gratuities a difficult matter for the administration to face, was placed before the special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment by Sir Thomas White, former minister of finance.

The former minister of finance was calling attention to the many heavy expenditures which the government was called upon to face from the forthcoming Victory Loan. Without any new debts incurred, the major portion of this loan would be taken up in bank debt and other obligations.

"Canada's financial position," he said, "while it should not be called critical, is still serious because of five years' war expenditure to call for most careful administration."

"The policy of all the nations which were belligerents will be toward retrenchment for the next few years."

In regard to the forthcoming loan, Sir Thomas said he had no misgivings. It would probably be well over-subscribed, but he could see that, from present indications, a further loan would be necessary next year. Canada had to borrow money to finance purchases by Britain and her allies in order that Canada's own trade might not suffer.

"I do not see how it would be possible for the government to raise any such further sum as is suggested if its credit is to be maintained," said Sir Thomas. The ex-minister expressed the view that should the government decide to grant a large amount of additional aid to soldiers, the money would mostly have to be produced by domestic loans.

Paris.—The supreme council will meet to reply to the request of Bulgaria for an extension of ten days to the time granted it for presentation of its observations on the treaty handed to the Bulgarian commissioners September 19.

Ex-Kaiser Moving

Amsterdam.—The former German emperor will remove from Arcenon about December 16, and take up his residence at Doorn.

A cool, clean shave for 1/5 of a cent!

A cool, clean, satiny shave for 1/5 of a cent—think of it! At least 500 shaves are obtained from 12 AutoStrop blades, and you often get more than that.

Just a turn or two on the strop and your AutoStrop Razor is ready. After shaving, you press a little lever, put the blade under the tap, wipe it off, and it is ready for the next shave. There is no need to take the razor to pieces and assemble it again; simply leave the blade where it is from start to finish. This means time saved in the morning rush—and a razor blade that's good for about six weeks' clean, cool shaves.

McClary's Kootenay

TOP, bottom and all four sides of the Kootenay oven are evenly heated. That is why it is so famous as a dependable baker.
There is a thermometer, too,
to tell whether the heat is right or not.

No range is quite so easily managed. Duplex grates clear the ashes at a single turn. Burnished cooking-top never needs blacklead. Nickelized steel oven walls are kept clean with a damp cloth. Well-fitted joints and dampers hold the fire—and the oven heat—for hours.

Let us show you the Kootenay.

BERGEN NEWS

Mr. N. B. Hays' tractor can be heard every day turning over the virgin sod. He intends breaking 300 acres on his ranch this year.

For the benefit of the Sunny Alberta editor in the Morning Albertan we are glad to state that Mr. John Haug has finished the stable at the school. We do warm up quite often in this western country and generally show results.

A few jobs have been threshed in this neighbourhood with the following yield per acre: C. O. Johanneson, oats 35 bushels; J. T. Johanneson, oats, 85 bushels; Thos. Michelson, oats, 85 bushels, barley 60
bushels.

O. T. Johansson is moving to his residence in Olds instead of the old Pearson homestead as stated in a previous report, where he intends to leave his family until he finds a new location.

Mrs. Wanwick, of Alderson,
Alta., and Mrs. Olson, of Park
Falls, Wis., were visitors at Thos.
Michelson's the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McKillop and party from Calgary paid C. J.
Erickson's a visit last week.

M. B. Hays had a narrow escape with his Studebaker car coming up the Bergen Hill last Friday. The car slid on the frozen ground as he was making the first turn and he ran through the fence breaking two posts, with only slight damage to his machine.

The attendance at the school has increased to 16 since the decline of the whooping cough epidemic.

Lucile Michelson, daughter of Thomas Michelson, of Bergen, died on the 29th of September. Lucile was a very bright young girl and was well liked by both young and old.
She was born at St. Paul, Minn., on the 24th of Jan. 1905. On the 27th November, 1918, she was operated on at the Holy Cross hospital for appendicitis and other complications and was at the hospital until Jan. 18th, when she came back home and has seemed to be steadily improving until July 28th, when she was taken seriously ill and was sick until her death. She felt satisfied to die as she had the assurance that she was going to Jesus where all pains and sorrows are no more. She was buried at the Bergen cemetery October 2nd. Rev.
W. H. Jennings officiating.

Highland News

Mr. Rhoads is taking a short vacation and is making Calgary his first stop. He has a man at home looking after his ranch. Everyone expects he is attending the horse sales in East Calgary.

Mr. David Allan is looking for his wife from Scotland this week. Dave says "no more batching for mine."

Mr. Fred Admussen and Harvey
McKnight are busy getting out building logs these fine days.

We are wondering why Mr. Carl Arneson is never at home lately.
Still, if a man wants to go after his mail on Tuesday and wait in Bergen for Saturday's mail, we should worry.

SHE withstood everything in the field and above all was, and still is, the last and only car to survive until the cessation of hostilities"—Extract from letter received by Ford Motor Company from a British Soldier, in Africa.

Over shell-torn roads, through water soaked fields, second only to the tanks in its power to climb debris and crater holes, the Ford car made a world famous record in the fighting area of the great war. In press despatches, in field reports, in letters, in rhyme and song the praises of the Ford were sounded.

In France - 700 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Italy - 850 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Egypt - 996 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Mesopotamia 999 cars out of 1,000 were Fords

The Ford power plant that established this world-wide record in every theatre of the war remains the same. It will be in the Ford you buy.

A Happy Family

BY DR. S. C. BOWERS.

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or, something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This may save you from a fit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realizing more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for fifty cents, at almost any drug store.

A Musical Incident

The young lady attended a concert. As the violinist finished his solo she wept loudly. "Ah!" he said, "she is a lover of music." Rushing to her he clasped her. "I understand," he said, "you have true appreciation." "Yes," she said, "you played grand. But I wept because I neglected to remove my dog's dinner from the stove, and I know it is ruined."

The Best Liver Pill.—The action of the liver is easily disarranged. A sudden chill, undue exposure to the elements, over-indulgence in some favorite food, excess in drinking, are a few of the causes. But whatever may be the cause, Parmalee's Vegetable Pills can be relied upon as the best corrective that can be taken. They are the leading liver pills, and they have no superiors among such preparations.

She Wanted Progress

"No, sah, Ah don't never ride on dem things," said an old-colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen dat Rastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' git off at the very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him, 'Rastus,' I sez, 'you spent yo' money, but whar yo' been?'"—Boston Transcript.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

Which Are the Seven Seas?

That there is magic and mystery in numbers is an ancient tale, and the fact is confirmed by a correspondent asking: "Which are the seven seas?"

Upon inquiry, there appears to be a common consensus as to six of the seven, these six being the Atlantic, the Arctic, Antarctic, Pacific, Mediterranean, and Indian. And just as the ancients, agreeing on six, were divided upon the seventh wonder of the world (some voting for the Pharaohs of Egypt, others for the Palace of Cyrus), so there is doubt as to whether the seventh sea be the Baltic or the North Sea.

Humiliating

George: I hear that your employers discharged you.

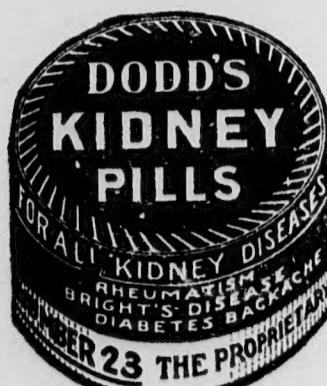

Daphne: Yes, but I wouldn't mind that so much if they hadn't added insult to injury.

George: How?

Daphne: They advertised for a boy to fill my place.—London Pit-Bits.

No More Asthma.—Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy sounds the death-knell of this trying trouble. It stops the awful choking and painful breathing. It guards against night attacks and gives renewed ability to sleep and rest the whole night long. Much is claimed for this remedy, but nothing but what can be demonstrated by a trial. If you suffer from asthma try it and convince yourself of its great value.

Probably you never heard of the man who was killed with kindness—but if you did it was nothing but hearsay.

To Dig Out

Prices Will Fall When Production Is Increased

There is only one sure way to cut down the cost of living. Prices will fall when production is increased. With larger supply of what everybody needs to eat, drink and wear and for shelter there will be concurrent drop of cost to the consumer. At the same time there is brought about an equivalent rise in the wages of labor. To stop work is to decrease production. Having endured the war we must now begin the work of repair. One little word of three letters shows the way out of the world dilemma. That word is "dig."—From the Philadelphia Record.

The sneer of the jealous fool is apt to proclaim the wise man's merit.

Fresh Supplies in Demand.—Wherever Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has been introduced increased supplies have been ordered, showing that wherever it goes this excellent Oil impresses its power on the people. No matter in what latitude it may be found its potency is never impaired. It is put up in most portable shape in bottles, and can be carried without fear of breakage.

She Let Him Choose

She: What an atrocious necktie! I wouldn't trust you to select anything, you have so little taste.

He (chuckling): You forgot that I selected you, my dear.

She: You think you did, but you didn't really.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief By Enriching the Blood

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather of autumn may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which may shortly leave the victim prostrated and helpless.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin curing yourself today by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Mighty Serious Thing

"You printed my death notice, and that's no joke."

"But, my dear sir, that's not my fault. It's the fact that you are alive that makes it no joke."

There was a subtleness to this that made it most annoyingly puzzling.

WHY YOU SHOULD BUILD ONLY FROM PLANS

Every building you put up this year and from now on should figure largely in your future.

Whether it be a new house or only a machine shed it will help you make money by saving it.

Just how much it will help depends on how well it fits into your needs now and later.

If you go ahead and build without any plan or any reference to future years and needs you are very likely to find that in a short time the building doesn't fit and you have to re-model, enlarge or build new.

WHATEVER YOU DECIDE TO BUILD GET A PLAN FOR IT, WE MAKE THEM FREE.

And just because it is a FREE service don't think that it isn't worth anything.

These plans are made to fit your ideas and your needs. They are made so that your buildings will be strong and durable and cost the least that they can be made to cost and be built right.

Just as soon as you decide to go ahead with any building see us at once for plans as well as material.

All brethren are requested to attend. In the evening after the ceremonies St. Hilda's Chapter of the Eastern Star will provide a banquet.

Dr. W. G. Evans, the local officer of health, reports that so far there is no sign of the flu this year. There has been a mild form of scarlet fever, but that has about disappeared now.

An item of interest locally from the result of the Ontario elections is the news that Mr. Edgar Evans, brother of Dr. W. G. Evans, was elected as a representative of the farmers for South Simco.

Mr. Parker Reed who has not been in the best of health for some time is spending a few days at Banff trying to recuperate.

Remember Thursday, Oct. 30, is the day to see John F. Miller, Alberta's Eye Sight Specialist.

A surprise party was given by the St. Hilda's Chapter of the Eastern Star on Tuesday night to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gertz, who are leaving shortly for a trip to the States. A very pleasant evening was spent by those present, after which a lunch was served and the party dispersed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gertz a pleasant holiday and good luck.

The new dry goods firm, Messrs. Campbell & Anderson, who have taken over the Williams & Little dry goods business, are celebrating by putting on a big get acquainted sale which is now on.

Rev. J. A. Marple of Calgary will preach next Sunday, the 26th, at Zella 11 a.m., Springside 3 p.m., Westcott Baptist Church 7:30 p.m. These services will be held every two weeks hereafter.

Straw Gas a Failure.

The possibility of producing gas from ordinary waste straw was referred to in these columns several months ago, in a review of results obtained by a Saskatchewan inventor, and more or less confirmed by a university scientist Prof. A. R. Greig, A.M.E.I.C., professor of agricultural engineering at the Saskatchewan University, after two years' experimenting, now states that straw gas cannot be made by any method yet tried because of the impracticable cost.
